Definition of Terms:

4. Beyond expected performance

MASTER CANDIDATE'S NAME:

The intern demonstrates a broad and deep understanding of the knowledge and skills of leadership. The intern initiates multiple opportunities for implementation of the knowledge or skill and seeks wide participation via varied and active modes of engagement to develop a strong school leadership team. The intern completes tasks on time with little or no supervision. The intern seeks advice and seeks answers to appropriate problems. You would want your child or relative have this person as an administrator.

3. Acceptable and Expected performance

The intern demonstrates adequate understanding of the knowledge and skills of leadership. The intern initiates opportunities for implementation of the knowledge or skill and seeks some participation via varied and active modes of engagement to develop a strong school leadership team. The intern completes tasks on time with minimal supervision. The intern sometimes seeks advice and sometimes seeks answers to appropriate problems. This candidate would be an adequate administrator.

2. Below expected performance

The intern demonstrates a minimal understanding of the knowledge and skills of leadership. The intern initiates single opportunities for implementation of the knowledge or skill. The intern demonstrates a top-down paradigm of educational leadership and does not seek wide stakeholder participation. Passive modes of leadership are exhibited. The intern must be reminded to complete tasks on time. The intern rarely seeks advice and rarely seeks answers to appropriate problems. At the current level of development you would not want your child or relative to have this person as an administrator.

1. Unacceptable Performance

This intern exhibits a distinct lack of understanding of the educational leadership process. Serious deficiencies in the knowledge and skills to be an educational administrator are apparent. The intern does not seek advice and does not seek answers to appropriate problems. This intern should be counseled about their choice of administration as a career path.

To Whom It May Concern:

I have had the opportunity to supervise Mr. Jason Harmon while he is working on his administrative degree. During the 2014-15 school year Mr. Harmon has been involved in daily aspects of Guernsey-Sunrise Public School.

One of the highlights of this past year was working with Mr. Harmon on the Districts Mentor/Mentee program. Mr. Harmon was the core leader in developing this new program. Mr. Harmon was able to motivate and work with his peers to create a document that will help new employees in our district for years to come.

Mr. Harmon is not afraid to ask questions and gain more knowledge about the principal position. I believe that Mr. Harmon will make a good school administrator in the near future.
